

Trial Period & Probation Terms

To be signed and returned to the Company

Employee Name: _____

Designation: _____

Date of Joining: _____

This letter sets out the trial period and probation terms that apply to your employment with Traverse Inc. (the "Company"). It forms part of, and should be read together with, your letter of appointment.

1. Trial Period — Seven (7) Working Days

Your employment begins with a trial period of seven (7) working days from your date of joining. The purpose of the trial period is for both you and the Company to assess your suitability for the role.

- During the trial period, you will be paid at fifty percent (50%) of your agreed gross salary, calculated pro-rata for the seven working days worked.
- The trial is measured in seven working days actually worked; any day not worked does not count towards completion of the trial.
- Either you or the Company may end the employment at any time during the trial period by giving one (1) day's notice, without assigning any reason.
- On satisfactory completion of the trial period, you will proceed to the probation period described below.

2. Probation Period — Three (3) Months

On successful completion of the trial period, you will be on probation for three (3) months. During probation:

- you will be paid your full agreed gross salary;
- either party may terminate the employment by giving the notice set out in your letter of appointment;
- the Company may, at its discretion, extend the probation period or confirm your employment earlier.

Your employment will be confirmed only in writing on satisfactory completion of probation. Company-provided discretionary benefits, such as group health insurance, become effective on confirmation of employment; statutory benefits apply from your date of joining as required by law.

3. Acknowledgement

I confirm that I have read and understood these trial and probation terms, and I accept them as part of my employment.
